TWO-STORY BLOCK YOU WILL SOON REQUIRE NEW LICENSE FOR FAMILY BUS, SO HERE ARE SOME ADVANCE TIPS

Five Stores, Six Apartments in Building to Be Built for C. R. Bassell

Another connecting link for the new business section, which is rapidly being developed on North Brand boulevard, is the C. R. Bassell block, which is to be constructed at the northeast corner of Lexington drive and Brand boulevard for Mr. Bassell by the Rommel Construction company.

Ground was broken this morning for the new structure, which is to be a two-story brick building with five stores on the first floor and six double apartments on the second floor.

H. E. Rommel states that this business block will have a frontage of 50 feet on Brand boulevard and 86 feet on Lexington drive. The front will be of tan ruffled brick with black mortar, and is to be trimmed with terra cotta tile with the words "Bassel Block" in raised letters. It will also have a green glazed tile roof and plate glass store windows.

There will be three storerooms facing on Brand boulevard. Each of these will be 16x60 feet. The dimensions of the two stores facing on Lexington drive will be 15x40 feet.

Investment of $25,000

A fancy marquet will protect the entrance on Lexington drive leading to the apartments upstairs. These will have built-in beds, hardwood floors throughout, and all modern conveniences. There will be tiled bathrooms and also tile drain boards for the kitchen sinks.

When completed, the building will represent an investment of approximately $25,000, not including the ground, according to Mr. Rommel, who states that the work is to be finished within ninety days. The realty firm of Endicott and Larson will have charge of the rental of space in this new structure.

Mr. Bassell is a resident of Glendale, having formerly been engaged in business in Hollywood. He is now an ardent booster and believer in the great future for Glendale, as evidenced by the investment he is making in this newly developing business section.

Bright Young Man With Head for Figures is Stationed at Glendale Branch of Auto Club and Prepared to Give Aid in Securing Documents

By ART SHERBORNE

WILL "the family bus" wheeze through another month? If so, it will need a new license after the first of February—about the time you get the Christmas bills paid. There are over 625,000 car owners in the state of California and they all feel the same as you do about the matter. According to M. B. Towman, manager of the local branch of the Southern California Automobile Club at 248 South Brand boulevard, there are at least 4000 motorists in Glendale.

The state license fee remains the same this year as last—40 cents a horse. Of course, the power of a horse depends somewhat upon the size and disposition. Maybe most of the horses in your car are harnessed up backwards and perhaps a number of them are dead. Anyhow, Mr. Noah Webster says "a horsepower is a unit of power equal to a rate of 550 foot pounds of work a second." In other words, a healthy horse is supposed to be able to lift two dumbbells weighing 225 pounds each one foot in a second. This is where the disposition of the horse comes in—no self-respecting equine can be bothered with any such setting-up exercises.

Some automobiles are rated at 60 horsepower. It is quite doubtful if there are that many horses in Glendale. The exact number that live here is unknown but there were two before one died. So don't try to hire a herd of horses and test the stubbornness of your motor in a tug of war. No, there is a formula: Square the bore of the cylinder expressed in inches, multiply it by the number of cylinders and divide it by 2.5.

Hesitate before you get out the school algebra, waste three quires of paper and chew up six pencils, develop brain fog and begin to imagine that your "Lizzie" has twelve cylinders and would go twice as fast if it had another engine.

Paid to Worry for You
Let O. D. Dodge do your worrying. Who is he? Mr. Dodge is an expert interpreter of state traffic regulations who recently arrived at the local headquarters of the Southern California Automobile Club.

Today's World News In Brief

(By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

HARDING AND FARMERS TO HOLD CONFERENCE, CLAIM
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—President Harding is going to invite the heads of a number of farmers' organizations to come to Washington for a conference on the general agricultural situation.

ST. PAUL VOTES TO RETAIN COMMISSION GOVERNMENT
ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 30.—By a plurality of 5500, St. Paul voters yesterday decided to retain the commission form of government. A new charter, providing return to the mayor and council plan was defeated after a bitterly fought campaign.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR ENDURANCE FLIGHT MADE
MINEOLA, N. Y., Dec. 30.—The American-built J.L.-6 monoplane, piloted by Eddie Stinson and Lloyd Bertaud, landed at Roosevelt flying field at 11:17:50 a. m. today, establishing a new world's record for an endurance flight. The unofficial flying time was 26 hours, 19 minutes and 50 seconds.

DECLARE JAP HOMELAND MUST BE CUT FROM TREATY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Elimination of the Japanese homeland from the scope of the four-power Pacific treaty before its ratification by the senate was declared today by republican leaders to be practically certain. Senator Jones, republican, of Washington, said he thought the growing opposition to the application of the term "insular dominions" in article I, to Japan proper, could easily be met by the adoption of a reservation stipulating that the term was not to be so construed.

SUBMARINE ISSUE TO COME BEFORE SUPREME COUNCIL
LONDON, Dec. 30.—The submarine issue raised by France's demands at the Washington conference may be shifted to Cannes when the supreme council meets there next week. Premier Lloyd George, who is already at Cannes for a brief holiday before the supreme council meeting, jumped into the controversy today in an effort to untangle it. The premier has broken his holiday and is keeping the wires busy between Cannes and London obtaining views and advice from admiralty experts.

SERIES OF RESOLUTIONS TO BE ADOPTED AT PARLEY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Adoption of rules and regulations that seek to "humanize" warfare—in the air, on land and sea, and under the sea—appeared today to be all that is left for the armament conference to accomplish so far as limitation is concerned. The five big powers here will adopt a series of resolutions restricting the usages of submarines, aircraft and poison gases in warfare, the four smaller nations will give their assent, and later it is probable that all of the nations of the world will be asked to subscribe to them, thus giving the world a new code of war ethics. Only minor limitation projects remain to be considered. One is the proposal of the American government to limit auxiliary naval craft to 10,000 tons in size. Another is also an American suggestion, that the ratios of airplane carriers be approximated on the same general lines of the capital ship agreement, with 80,000 tons each for the United States and Great Britain and 48,000 tons for Japan. This proposal has not been formally disposed of yet, but there is every indication that it will go by the boards, along with other limitation projects.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS AND LUKENS' SITE CARRY BY BIG MAJORITIES; NEW BUILDINGS BEING DISCUSSED

Out of 3034 Ballots Only 173 Are Against Bonding of District, While But 243 Voters in Favor of Grey Property as Location for New Plant

GLENDALE'S Union High School bonds carried! The result of yesterday's election was a landslide for the east side site and an overwhelming majority in favor of the issuance of $85,000 worth of bonds. Out of 3034 ballots cast only 173 were against the bonds and only 243 voters objected to the Lukens' property. The largest vote for the Grey site was polled at the Central avenue school in Glendale's north precinct. Here 132 voted for the west side site and 184 for the east side.

The largest vote was cast at the high school polls. Although the day started quietly enough, this was literally stamped in the afternoon by citizens anxious to do their civic duty. About 1500 votes were dropped into the ballot box. Of this number only 1000 opposed the bonds.

"We were busy every minute of the day," declared Mrs. Mary Houston, 442 Myrtle street, judge of the election at the high school. "There wasn't but a half hour that we weren't rushed. There seemed to be a little lull between 11:30 and 12 o'clock. There didn't seem any question in the minds of the voters where they wanted the high school. They didn't waste any time voting."

T. A. Wright, 141 North Louise street, was the inspector here. He said: "The vote was a regular landslide. The voters certainly knew where they wanted their school." "It was the biggest vote that was ever cast in Glendale on any bond election," declared S. Riley Lyon, 326 North Jackson street, who was a judge at the high school. "There was a continuous stream of voters in here but from 4 to 6 o'clock was a regular rush."

As a matter of fact, blank ballots gave out late in the afternoon and it was necessary to secure more. At five minutes to six there were still a score of persons waiting to register their opinion. After they had voted, the polls were closed.

Says He Is Ashamed
Charles W. Young telephoned the high school last night to remark that he was ashamed of Eagle Rock because two out of 758 voters over there had opposed the bonds.

"I apologize to the people for ever thinking they had any lack of confidence in the school board," he said. (Continued on Page 2).

CITY COUNCIL FOR WAR ON RAILWAY RATE INCREASE

City Attorney Instructed to Take Necessary Steps to Get Rehearing of Case

On motion of Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson, the city council last night, unanimously, instructed Bert P. Woodard, city attorney, "to take the necessary steps to oppose the proposed increase in rates of the Pacific Electric Railroad company, either by protest filed or by petition for a rehearing; inasmuch as it appears that the rates were raised for Glendale transportation without any recommendation for improved service or adequate accommodations; we being informed that in all other instances where an increase was granted, improved service and adequate accommodations were made a condition precedent to the increased rates."

"Also, that this matter be referred to the Chamber of Commerce with a request that the Chamber of Commerce refer the same to their committee to join with the council in such steps as may be found to be most expedient."

Scored by Councilmen
That is from the minutes of the city council, but while the matter was being discussed each of the councilmen took occasion to rap the State Railroad commission.

Mayor Spencer Robinson said that he considered himself a peace-loving citizen, but he felt like calling upon a few friends to arm themselves with baseball bats and he would be happy to lead them in an attack on the members of the state commission.

Councilman A. H. Lapham thought poison would be more appropriate. Councilman Stephenson declared the new rates "are an outrage." Councilman C. E. Kimlin and Councilman S. A. Davis both scored the commission and urged a systematic campaign to secure a readjustment of rates.

fidence in the public school system of the United States," declared Dr. H. V. Brown, president of the high school board of trustees. "The result of the balloting indicates that the people of Glendale are thoroughly alive to the interests of the thousands of school children we now have and the thousands we expect to have. The board is fully justified in taking this election as a vote of confidence in the recommendations they have made and they will feel more anxious than ever to provide as speedily as possible for a new high school commensurate with the needs of the great growing Glendale High School District."

George U. Moyses, principal of the high school, also wore a broad smile last night. Today he has been kept busy answering inquiries from his many friends in the vicinity.

G. U. Moyses Is Pleased
"I am deeply gratified by the vote concerning the future of Glendale Union High School," declared Mr. Moyses after the official count had been received. "We can never tell what the result of a vote is going to be until the official returns are in. However, it didn't seem possible that the people of the district could do anything other than what they did by their vote. I am indeed proud of the results. The number of ballots cast indicates that residents here take a real interest in civic affairs."

Dr. Brown declared that it would be at least sixty days before the high school board could obtain legal possession of the new site. He said that the next regular meeting of the board was scheduled for the second Tuesday of January but that the law required the board to canvas the votes seven days after the election.

Favors Group System
"I have no statement to make yet in regard to the amount of money that will be necessary to expend on the type of buildings desirable," stated Dr. Brown unofficially last night. "There is only one thing certain in my mind and that is that the new high school plant should be planned from the beginning on the group system with suitable provisions for the addition of extra units and expansion from time to time."

Principal Moyses also seems to favor this scheme. He said: "As yet I have not collected much data in regard to the details of a suitable high school plant. I intend to devote considerable study to this subject at once. However, by visiting other institutions and obtaining the opinions of experienced educators connected with the county and state boards of education, it will be possible to formulate definite ideas in a comparatively short time. During my summer trip I saw the best new high school plants in Central California. A modification of the plans of any of the plants already built will be necessary for our particular interests here."

To Take Care of Growth
"The modern tendency seems to be towards the group system of planning whereby, after a general plan has been adopted, it is only necessary to erect such buildings as are required immediately and permit other units to be added later as required. This system has the advantage of being capable of considerable expansion. In view of Glendale's continuous growth, I do not see how any other plan could be carried out successfully."

"As far as the buildings themselves are concerned, I feel that taxpayers of the district desire a high school plant which will be a model of efficiency and a credit to the community. I know that the high school board will make every effort to accomplish this vision. There will be great rejoicing among the members of the faculty upon their return from the Christmas holidays."

"This bond election will place funds immediately available to start the architects at work upon plans. This work has been begun at the earliest opportunity. By doing so some six months can be saved in the time of completing the buildings."

Notes for Architects
The board decided at its last meeting to make it known that all architects who expect to be considered in this matter should file their name and address with the principal of the high school. They will be notified when to appear to present their qualifications and credentials. The high school board will pursue the same course of action followed recently by the grammar school board in the selection of an architect and will give those properly qualified an opportunity to be heard. Time may be saved by getting certain information from Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools. However, independent conclusions will be formulated.

In a personal statement last night Dr. Brown declared: "The first thing that is absolutely necessary is to have expert opinion on the way to lay out the grounds and the proper location for the buildings and the grouping for the same. Undoubtedly we will have a tentative plan for a complete high school plant but we may not avail ourselves of the entire plan at once. Of course, every member of the board will have some ideas on these things but we will have to be guided to some extent by expert opinion. This statement is purely personal. It is not what the board thinks officially."

"We have not gone into the matter of dimensions or number of classrooms necessary at all yet. We know that these buildings aren't large

Policy of Violence Against England Is Urged Upon India

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A policy of violence against the British by Indians was advocated by one faction attending the Indian national congress at Ahmadabad, said a dispatch from that city to the Daily Express.

Six thousand delegates from all parts of India attended the convention. The decisions of the delegates may decide the future destiny of India, the dispatch declared.

While one faction supported a policy of violence, another, consisting mainly of delegates from the United Provinces, demands immediate declaration of Indian independence. So far, the non-co-operationist leader, Gandhi, has succeeded in maintaining a policy of peace with passive resistance against the British, but his opponents may sweep the assembly before the meeting is over. "Freedom will soon be ours," said Ajmal Khan, president of the assembly. "India has adopted the program of Gandhi. Indian enthusiasm is greater than ever before."

"We boycotted the Prince of Wales, not meaning any personal discourtesy, but to prevent his visit from being exploited by bureaucracy to gain new life. We entertain no hope of getting anything from the prince."

Ajmal Khan recited the successes of the non-co-operationists.

HERE'S ORIENTAL MYSTERY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Did love of Harry Joe, Chinese, for the daughter of a rich Chinese merchant of San Francisco cost him his life? Officials of Solano county are endeavoring to answer this question. Joe was found dead in a field near Dixon, December 12. He had been shot to death. Two youthful Chinese were captured escaping from the neighborhood and are being held at Fairfield. Officials are probing a report that they are sons of the rich Chinese merchant and brothers of the beautiful Chinese maiden that Joe sought to marry. So far the officers have run up against the stone wall of Oriental silence.

Cincinnati, prior to 1790, was known as Losanteville.

OPEN PLAN IS ILLEGAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—The "open competition" plan in business as practiced by southern hardwood manufacturers, was held illegal and in conflict with the Sherman anti-trust law by the Supreme Court of the United States. The court held that the plans was simply a revival of the old "gentlemen's agreement" plan in a new form, and was in restraint of trade.

GAMEST GIRL IN ILLINOIS

UQUA, Ill., Dec. 30.—Miss Mildred Kelley, hailed as the "gamest girl in Illinois," who trailed five armed robbers in her "flivver" after they had robbed the State bank of Iuka, was back on the job again today, none the worse for her exciting chase. Cashier Herschel B. Holtzlaw, after making a preliminary check of the losses declared that the total would be between $15,000 and $20,000.

Then there is the matter of horsepower. To ascertain this measure in inches the inside diameter of one of the cylinders, square this number, multiply it by the number of cylinders and divide by 2.5. Better still, inform Mr. Dodge the make and model of your car and he will be able to tell you in a jiffy the number of horses who should be on the job.

The fee is 40 cents a horsepower. Money talks and the necessary sum should be included in money order or certified check payable to the "Division of Motor Vehicles of the State of California."

In making application for renewal of license it is only necessary to remove the certificate of registration from the dash board and send it in to the state capitol accompanied by the necessary remittance.

If your address has been changed since the last license was issued, note the new address on a slip of paper and pin it to the certificate. The correct address will appear on the new certificate.

Car in Cold Storage?

In taking out a 1922 license on a car that has been in storage an affidavit must be submitted giving storage period and stating when and where car was put into storage. It is unnecessary to relate why.

Applications for 1922 licenses on cars bearing non-resident licenses must be accompanied by non-resident "tag" of the yellow paper bell from the windshield and a certificate of registration from the home state. In case out-of-state certificate has been lost, it will be necessary to secure wire from secretary of state confirming license number. Out-of-state plates must be surrendered when the California license is secured.

In case last year's California certificate has been lost, mutilated or illegible, it will be necessary to make application for a duplicate which will cost an additional fee of 20 cents. Duplicate certificates are issued only through license headquarters at Sacramento and the application must be attested by a notary.

Drive for Someone Else?

"Operators' licenses do not have to be renewed," according to Mr. Dodge. "There is no fee for taking out the original operator's license, and by filling out the application properly anyone can secure one." In making application for a duplicate, however, a fee of 25 cents is charged.

"Chauffeurs making application for 1922 license must turn in 1921 badge and card accompanied by fee of $2."

"Motorcycle licenses cost $2 regardless of the power. For a new license the dealer's report of sale must be submitted and on a renewal the certificate is sufficient."

There may be several "heavy weights" in the family but there is no extra charge for cutting ruts in the road unless your machine happens to be a truck. In addition to the horsepower fee, trucks must pay an additional tax based upon weight. Unladen under 4000 pounds this amounts to $5; under 6000 pounds, $10; under 10,000 pounds, $15; and over 10,000 pounds, $20. The same scale applies to trailers.

Dealers according to law must make a list of all second hand cars in stock with the make, engine and license number and send the information to the department of motor vehicles at Sacramento.

Boy Scout Council Holds Meeting and Talks Over Plans

In order that the Burbank delegation can report back to the Boy Scout council in that city, the organization of a first-class Scout Council by the Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank representatives was delayed for one week when it is expected that a favorable reply will be brought in next Thursday night.

This was the principal result of a meeting held last night at R. L. Kent's office, C. L. Chandler presiding. James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was reassuring in his statements of the co-operation of the latter organization in a drive to finance a first-class council.

R. H. Condie, experienced in executive work of the Scouts, explained the purposes of the organization, while H. F. Benner of Tucson, Ariz., and Charles H. Kline, who is in charge of the Burbank Boy Scouts, also addressed the meeting.

Others present from Burbank were L. F. Collins, principal of the grammar school; J. H. Barnum, president, and R. W. Colburn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. F. Stilwell Moore, principal of the high school. Local business men who were present included A. R. Eastman, Charles H. Toll, A. A. Barton, W. C. Wattles, Nathan Rigdon, H. M. Butts, A. Wilkinson, A. T. Cowan and Messrs. Rhoades, Kent and Chandler.

TELLS OF SCENE AT SIGNING OF IRISH PEACE TREATY

Excitement Was Intense at Meeting Held by Premier and Sinn Fein Chiefs

Written for International News Service
LONDON—The inside story of the scenes in No. 10 Downing street, Premier Lloyd George's official residence, the night the Irish peace treaty was signed and how the Premier's personal secretary was rushed off to Belfast with the document, wearing Lloyd George's overcoat, is here given for the first time. With the strain over, the signing took place amidst the greatest hilarity.

The account, as given by the Evening News, follows:
The excitement at Downing street
throughout the crisis was intense—that is the only word.

I left officials limp and apathetic afterward, as if a white-hot fire had burned them out.

But they were cheery and full of nothing but the great campaign and victory.

The Prime Minister would not give
in. He passed from group to group and man to man, arguing, urging, defending. He seemed to have had no luncheon or dinner, only a snack of tea, standing up talking as he ate and drank.

Mr. Churchill, too, never lost heart. He lowered his bull-head and drove home brilliant point after brilliant point with unchangeable forttude.

But, of course, the climax of the drama was the last act, when, after the Sinn Fein leaders had sent back their answer, they returned and commenced till 2:30 with our Ministers.

Scene Is Unusual One
The scene of the signing was memorable indeed for its strange, almost unnatural high spirits.

There was a hectic hilarity born of weary nerves and jaded thoughts, and everyone chattered and laughed.
Best of all was Mr. Collins, the redoubtable man of action and practical negotiator, whose jokes and ever-ready humor sent the Prime Minister into peals of laughter.

He was appealed to about details,
and answered so drolly that the room shook with amusement time and again.

But a certain shrewd observer tells me that the time which glad-dened his heart most was when peace had been signed and former foes were at last wholly friends.

The problem was to get the news
and terms in time to Ulster, and lo!
the clock spoke of 2 a. m. and past!

What was to be done to get the messenger in time "tomorrow?"

"No, today," said Mr. Collins, and everyone roared.

The Sinn Feiners and Englishmen put their heads together for common action for the first time against the common enemy. Time and devised means for the instant transmission of a courier to Belfast.

The ordinary train to Holyhead takes, I believe, six and one-half hours or more, so a special one primed to do it in five hours was ordered on the telephone.

Next a destroyer was summoned
through the Admiralty to be in readiness to wait Mercury across the briny seas.

In Prime Minister's Coat
But who shall go? The Prime Minister pointed roguishly to Mr. Collins. Mr. Collins pointed back to the Prime Minister, when their eyes fell upon the devoted red head of Mr.
Shakespeare, the indefatigable secretary of No. 10, who had followed negotiations all night.

"Shakespeare, you must go," said
Lloyd George.

"He has no clothes for the journey," said someone.

"He can have my overcoat," says
the Prime Minister.

"And my toothbrush!" roars an Irish voice somewhere.

So, otherwise without change of garments, Mr. Shakespeare speeds off in the Prime Minister's fur-tipped overcoat to brave a non-stop run along crowded rails to Holyhead and a rolling passage over the Irish Channel.

Then somebody said what ought to have occurred to them all:

"How strange that a man named Shakespeare should act as intermediary between our reconciled nations!"

day have to pay a special tax.

BUSINESS OF COUNTRY ON HIGH ROAD TO PROSPERITY, DECLARES PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL C. OF C.

Economic Status of Nation Steadily Grows Better
and Growth is on Surer Foundation; Cheerful Message Comes From Nearly Every Section

AMERICAN business has struck clear of the depression and is again on the high road to prosperity. This is the cheerful message which Joseph D. Defrees, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, gives to the business men of America today through the International News Service as the old year wanes and the new year dawns. American business, he says, "is gathering strength."

By JOSEPH D. DEFREES
President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States
Written for the International News Service
(Copyright 1921 by the International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Men draw different interpretations from the facts that appear in the business situation which has been so uncertain of late. My own conception of present economic conditions in the United States is "gathering strength."

To my mind evidence multiplies that the elements of weakness which characterized the situation a year ago have run their course in large degree and that we now are in a period of business rehabilitation with many of the causes of unsoundness eliminated. However unpleasant events have been they have served to bring the country down to fundamentals and to disclose once more the great basis of economic power we have for a fresh start.

In twelve or eighteen months we have sustained with remarkable success the shock of price declines such as no other country has yet had to undergo and we are now in the position of having gone farthest toward wiping out the artificial features of our situation left by the war. All of this has been accomplished without resort to emergency palliatives.

There has been a demonstration of American courage and of the strength of our economic structure.
To any general statement regarding the economic status of the country there must necessarily be individual exceptions. Readjustments in certain fields will undoubtedly continue. In the case of railroad revenues and rates, definitely organized machinery exists to deal with them. In other problems like taxation, a beginning has been made and there is promise of more progress yet to come. Development in these problems and in processes of readjustment will speed the restoration of economic relationships among raw materials and finished products, bringing costs of production and costs of service between producers'
dollars and consumers' dollars.

Demand to Increase
A building up business activity has now become possible upon a surer foundation than has existed for years.
As always happens in such periods, raw materials were first to feel the effects of deflation in prices. These effects have been widespread and serious. The compensation will come through response of raw materials to the new conditions. At the middle of December a joint congressional committee, reporting on the agricultural crisis and its causes, reached conclusions of fact that are reassuring. From its statements it would follow that agriculture can look forward with much confidence to the future, with an increasing demand for what it has to sell.

Other producers of raw materials
seem to have improvement in sight.
"Copper is finishing the year with a remarkable spurt, one that has already regained much of the ground lost earlier in 1921," according to a leading journal.

The great basic industry of steel did not go so far downward as copper and has shown a good degree of recovery since last July.

Production Is Stronger
The president of the organization of the bituminous coal operators expressed a belief that the "bituminous industry will emerge from the period of depression without many of the handicaps of the past period."

"The flour milling industry," according to an authority, "has faced periods which were far more severe than any recent occurrence."

Outside of the metals group, our important industries today have an actual production of goods as great or greater than before the war.
Some industries are working at a rate which reflects the impulses which are coming from the gathering of strength which is going forward.

The production of cement has broken
the record for any month.
Cotton mills in the south are reported in such instances to be operating with night shifts.

Shoe factories in various districts are said to "continue extremely busy."

Paper mills making newsprint in November produced at the rate of 78 per cent of the capacity they attained at the time of the greatest activity in 1920.

Light Stocks Carried
Woolen manufacture has increased its employees by 75 per cent over November of last year.

A general survey of the lumber industry in all its parts concludes that in 1921 not only the current production was marketed, but much of the stocks; that stock on hand at mills has decreased at least 40 per cent and that retailers' stocks are 30 to 50 per cent under normal.

There is every indication that light stocks are the order of the day for all industries and merchants. Today's stocks are so low that the impulse from consumption demand can be immediately felt and industry has greatly improved its ability for efficiency and economy.

The president of the Electric Railway association now tells the members "as a whole the electric railway industry has survived in a manner totally unlooked for and inspires hope and confidence in their future successes."

Whatever adjustments of revenues and rates remain to be made for the steam railways, a deficit from operation last year has been replaced by

Naval Holiday Plan Put on Scrap Heap By France's Demand

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—

The plans for a ten-year naval holiday had been consigned to the international scrap heap along with the old capital ships of the world's great navies, as the delegates to the arms conference met today to gather up the loose ends of a naval agreement.

The entente cordial between the French and British delegates has been severely jarred by France's refusal to accept a limitation on her auxiliary ship program. It has suffered a number of hard bumps since the conference began on November 12, but none so great as that occasioned by France's defeat of the naval holiday plan, and her flatly announced determination to build up a great fleet of submarines.

So intense has been the feeling engendered by developments in Washington that it is likely to have a re-percussion in Cannes early in January when the allied premiers meet to discuss economic and financial matters.

Seldom have the statesmen of two great and supposedly friendly powers addressed each other in an international gathering with the candor and pointed suggestion that characterized the debate between A. J. Balfour and M. Sarraut over the submarine controversy.

While still maintaining the outward aspect of observing the diplomatic amenities, British spokesmen, in the conference and in talking with newspaper correspondents, lay the blame for the failure of the naval holiday plan directly at France's door. "Disappointment" and "amazement" are expressed over the French attitude.

The French, in return, do not conceal their resentment at the "attempted dictation by Great Britain."
The attitude assumed by the French spokesmen is that France herself is the best judge of France's needs.
France needs a great auxiliary naval force, and that ends the matter.

Denies Plan to Stop
Use Sacramental Wine

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Denial that the dry forces would try to abolish sacramental wines was made here by William E. Anderson, state superintendent of the anti-saloon league.

"There is no proposal that I know of by any person of authority or responsibility to do anything of the sort suggested," Anderson said.
"It's a case of much ado about nothing."

EUGENE GILMORE SELECTED
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—President Harding nominated Eugene A.
Gilmore of Wisconsin to be vice governor of the Philippine Islands.
The president also sent to the senate
the nomination of Emilio Del Toro of Porto Rico to be chief justice of the supreme court of Porto Rico.

earnings, possibly $600,000,000 or more, for the twelve months.

Going Back to Work
Unemployment has decreased.
Somewhere between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 persons, unemployed four months ago, have been put to work,
according to government authorities.

Wholesale prices have the most direct relation to general business conditions. In May, 1920, they were at their peak—272 per cent of the 1913 level. In November of 1921 year they were at 207 and by December had dropped 18 points. In November of this year they stood at 119.

The prospect is that the tumbling prices we have seen is at an end and that their further downward course will be brought about largely by the forces of competition and the laws of supply and demand, i. e., by processes of our normal economic life.

The banking situation has greatly improved during the year.

Between November of last year and the end of November, 1921, a little better than half a billion dollars of the national debt was retired and the monthly cost of running the government was down from a figure that kept near $400,000,000 to one that bears about the same relation to $300,500,000.

Lord Northcliffe in Shanghai Pledges His Support for Chinese and Denounces Anglo-Japanese Pact; Admits He is 'Funny Animal'

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
Written for International News Service

SHANGHAI, China.—Lord Northcliffe, who has been hurling bombshell after bombshell at the Japanese during his tour of investigation of conditions in the Far East, declares he is a funny animal.

With a master mind that enables him to secure an instant grasp of situations, energy which carries him through a strenuous day's work—from 6:30 a. m. until 9 p. m., when he retires—a dynamic personality which sweeps all before him, Lord Northcliffe has a weakness for red neckties. He buys red neckties with black circles by the dozens of dozens. For years he has worn his favorite color and style of tie, and for years he hopes to continue wearing them.

The fame of his red neckties had reached Shanghai from Peking, where he has been in the midst of a most sensational run on the two largest government banks in the capital, and sure enough, when I met him there was the red tie and Lord Northcliffe.

I was disappointed. He was rather pudgy, and in his rain coat and hat, looked more like a country squire than the fire-eater who is declaring that "world peace is jeopardized with Japan in Shantung;" that "the Anglo-Japanese alliance is the 'nigger in the woodpile'" at the Washington conference, and that the genro or elder statesmen of Japan control not only Japan but the Chinese delegates at Washington.

But after talking to this man—who controls sixty-five newspapers and made a fortune at 23—for a few minutes, I decided that he was a far cry from the placid village squire.

"Yes, I'm a funny animal," he said. "I never drink, but I am against prohibition."

"Dance?" he exclaimed. "Do I look it? Why, there isn't a floor in Shanghai that would hold me up. Why should I—a man of 56 years of age—get out on a dance floor and make a fool of myself?"

"Golf? Yes, I am a good golfer."

And when asked if he could beat Lloyd George, he said that he wasn't on golfing terms with the British premier.

During his tour of Shanghai Lord Northcliffe visited the leading Chinese and foreign newspaper offices. He visited the office of the China Press, which has the largest circulation of any American daily and Sunday newspaper in China, and shook hands with all the boys and the two "sob sisters," and declared that he had visited more newspaper offices than any other man in the world. He advised the newspaper men to travel, to study French and never marry if they intend to remain in the newspaper game. But above all, he declared, that "work, work, work," was the secret of success for any man regardless of his line of activity.

Lord Northcliffe has been warmly received by Chinese officials, educators and journalists throughout his visit in China.

Representatives of the Association of Chinese Newspapers of Shanghai were among the hundreds of Chinese and foreigners who welcomed the friend of China to Shanghai. In an address handed to Lord Northcliffe the Chinese journalists expressed an "earnest desire that you may give the widest publicity through the English press to the real needs and conditions of China at the present day, so that the inhabitants of the British Empire may apprehend the facts from which the Far Eastern question has arisen."

This he promised to do. And night and day he is at work studying every phase of the problems of the Far East and is so busy that he wouldn't permit his secretary (who is nearly worn out from the trip) to visit any Shanghai cafe or join a dinner and dancing party because he was afraid he would need him about midnight to take dictation.

He never gives an interview—another reason why he declares that he is a funny animal. Every statement from Lord Northcliffe (and by the way he is more like an American than he is like the English one meets in the Orient) is dictated. He keeps a file of every story given out for publication and never repeats.

Regarding Japan, he says that "after the overwhelming hospitality I received in Japan it may seem ungracious to criticize, but I am able to do so in good conscience because in my speeches in Australia and Manila and in a plain statement made before entry into Japan, I expressed strong opposition to a further continuation of the anti-American, war-provoking Anglo-Japanese alliance."

In regard to the delegates at the Washington conference from China he says: "The genro or elder statesmen not only control Japan but control the Chinese delegates at Washington through Governor Chang Tso-lin, of Manchuria, who finances the Peking government. The Southern republic, with many millions of supporters, is not represented at Washington."

Lord Northcliffe paints a vivid picture of the war lord, declaring him to be China's most powerful man whose control of the Peking government is absolute. He is 45 years old, formerly a brigand with five wives, an army of 300,000 well equipped men, machine guns, airplanes and an income reaching half a million English pounds. But Lord Northcliffe's hobby—if one can call it such—is the Anglo-Japanese alliance and any conversation with him lands back to this subject.

"Well, good-bye," said Lord Northcliffe, who, in his newspaper offices is known as the chief of "the evil one." "Here is my autographed photograph for you." And as I gaped and accepted it—stunned that the man who is a power in the world today should have time to autograph a photograph for me—I decided that maybe he was after all—"a funny animal."

'Thar She Blows!' Signal Given for Novel Whale Hunt

By LEO T. HEATLEY,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK—A double-breasted, humpbacked whale that spits through its teeth, spouts like a soda fountain and has a keen sense of humor, raised tarnation thunder with inhabitants of Southampton and Amagansett, two Long Island villages, which rang with the ancient rallying cry "Thar she blows!" when the huge mammal was seen playing tag off shore.

This was a bull whale (the largest, of course, that ever breathed this side the Antarctic). Coastguards saw him first, and the news was flashed to the veteran farmer whalers, who donned their slickers and shouted against the wind, "Whale off!" This ceremony is called "wafting." Nobody who ever hunted a whale forgets the etiquette or terminology thereof. The whale was mauve colored, with a pink tint at the forehead hatch. Estimated to be 100 feet long, it was conceded the whale might shrink when and if it was landed.

The Southampton whalers sent to Amagansett, fifteen miles east for Uncle Josh Edwards' whaleboat, which came down in no time—three hours—with Sam Edwards in the bow and Wines Hulst in the stern. Felix Dominy's powerboat towed the whaler. Felix was aided by Hezekiah Hulst, brother of Wines. Hezekiah is just as good a whaler as Wines. We don't know how good Wines is, but no matter how good he is, Hezekiah is just as good. The crew of the powerboat sighted the whale and, trailing the whaler and its load of cap'n's, took after him. The whale blew three times, flipped his flukes and dived. The tarnation critters usually blow four times before they go under, and all the cap'n's say this one beat anything they ever see.

"Thar she blows!" yelled one of the crew.

"Whar?" asked Cap'n Edwards.

"Thar!" said the other cap'n. Then the whale decided to have some fun, so he dived under the boat and came up on the other side, repeating this performance several times. The animal again came into view astern, playing on the surface of the water for a few minutes, while the hunters almost cried because the boat, with its gun up forward, was headed in the opposite direction and had to be brought about. When this was accomplished the whale was gone.

Cap'n Edwards explained that the mammal had been attracted to the waters by a lot of whale food that was floating offshore.

"We missed him, all right, but we'll keep right after him and get him, too. No whale that swims the ocean's girth to come into Southampton and kid us. Not on yo'r life! If there's any quittin' to be done it'll be the whale and not us."

But the whale got away!

PASADENA FESTIVAL TO PASS FORMER ONES, BELIEF

Parade and Football Battle to Be Held Next Monday; Some Details Announced

Plans were nearing completion today for the tournament of roses parade and football game to be staged in Pasadena on January 2.

Satisfaction with the progress of the preliminary work was expressed by members of the executive committee in charge, who said that from all appearances this year's festival will surpass the tournaments of former years.

It was announced that the predominant flowers to be used in the pageant are roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, stocks, poinsettias, violets and lilies. No artificial flowers may be used.

Parade pageant moves from Colorado street and South Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, at 10:45 o'clock in the morning.

Route of Parade

Route of the parade is as follows: Colorado and Orange Grove, east on Colorado to Fair Oaks avenue, south on Fair Oaks to Dayton street, east on Dayton to Raymond avenue, north on Raymond avenue to Colorado street, west on Colorado to Fair Oaks avenue, north on Fair Oaks to Holly street, east on Holly to Raymond avenue, south on Raymond avenue to Colorado street, east on Colorado to Wilson avenue, south on Wilson to Tournament park, which is at the corner of Wilson avenue and California street.

By this route the parade passes over a gigantic S-shaped route in the heart of the business district.

There are seventeen classes, divided into six divisions in the parade pageant. As prizes fifty-one handsome solid silver and gold trophies are offered.

There will be at least fourteen bands in the parade.

At Tournament park floats will probably be given the choice of entering the park through the California street automobile entrance or of proceeding homeward. Those on the floats are admitted to Tournament park and the football game as guests of the Tournament of Roses association.

Floral Decorations

The predominant flowers to be used in the pageant this year are roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, stocks, poinsettias, violets and lilies.

The principal streets to be decorated are: Colorado street from Orange Grove to Wilson, Fair Oaks from Holly to Dayton, Raymond from Dayton to Holly. All the electric trolley wires on these streets will be trimmed as follows:

On each cross wire, there will be two large American flags, at the sides flanking two smaller flags for each of the colleges done in the college colors, and in the center will be a large flag lettered alternately on both sides—U. of C. and W. & J. with suitable football decoration. These center flags will have tasseled and painted fringes.

Over 200 electroliers along the route of the parade will be incased with novelty trimmings and American flags set off from palm fronds. There will be one set of American colors and one set of football colors to each of these electroliers.

For Football Game

At Tournament park every box in the grandstands will be topped with a large American flag and on the front of the boxes will be decorated throughout the entire length.

The college boxes will be decorated with the colors of the two teams, one set of goal posts to be done in California colors and the other in Washington and Jefferson colors.

The main entrance to the grounds at Wilson and California and the automobile entrances on California street and Wilson avenue will be appropriately decorated. All decorations will be in place not later than January 1 and are to be removed not later than January 4.

Walter Raymond, who has for years had charge of this work, is this year, as usual, chairman of the Street Decorations committee.

Entrance to the Tournament park football grandstands will be permitted at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The game will probably start at 2:15 o'clock.

There is no entertainment feature planned at the park except the football game.

TO DISPOSE OF MANY DASES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—Attorney-General Daugherty has approved a decree to be submitted to the United States District court in New York to dispose of a pending anti-trust suit against the American Sugar Refining company and other companies, it was announced at the Department of Justice. The suits were filed in November, 1910.

The decree prepared by the Department sets out that a combination on the restraint of trade in refined sugar existed prior to the filing of the suit, but that a change is now recognized in the industry. The company, it is stated, has disposed of its holdings in other corporations, including the National Sugar Refining company, the Great Western Sugar company, and the Michigan Sugar company.

Women Might Be Dare-Devil Flyers, So Aviators Believe

By International News Service

WASHINGTON—Will women furnish the daring fliers of the world in the near future and perhaps achieve the coveted title of "ace" in some future war?

This is regarded as something more than a possibility by airmen of experience.

They base their observations on experiences in flight with women passengers. It is fast becoming generally known that flying seems to appeal more widely to women than men. "They date on it!" according to some pilots. One pointed out that where the average man will decline a chance to go up the average woman will jump at it.

One cynic blamed this tendency on the alleged lack of responsibility of some women, or perhaps a lack of realization of anything more than the sensation of the flight. It was related by a flier, however, that in taking a group of women up one by one, after all had made him promise not to perform "stunts" while they were passengers, all but one fair aviator made him break his promise, then wanted to go up again.

It is a fact that abroad, where travel by air is more common than in America, women are the most enthusiastic patrons of these air conveyances. And some of the most fliers. Some of them lost their lives, daring stunt-performers in the history of aviation have been women but the veterans of their sex are still seeking new feats to try in the air.

Observers also point to the large number of women who engage in balloon jumps at county fairs and other gala celebrations, and also to the number of women who are professional "high divers" and aerial performers with circuses.

As for the part women fliers could play in war, it was shown that any woman capable of piloting a plane and being a good shot could hold her own with any flier of the enemy, regardless of sex. The consensus of opinion is that women make good aviators, and the view is expressed by veteran fliers that their ranks will grow.

Girl, 7, Completes 80,000 - Mile Trip With Her Father

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Seven year old Norma Snow completed an 80,000 mile exploration trip with her father, Henry A. Snow, a naturalist, her mother and her brother of Oakland, Calif., when the Olympic docket here. The trip lasted two years and took the party through the South sea islands, Australia and all parts of Africa. The party traveled 68,000 miles in Africa, going into sections of that continent hitherto untraversed by white men. Little Norma learned to speak the languages of a dozen different tribes while in Africa.

Mr. Snow during the trip collected specimens for the museum of Oakland, Calif. On board the Olympic he brought back with him two live lions, to be given to the Oakland park. Almost the entire fauna of Africa is represented by his collection. Among other things he collected 30,000 butterflies, 500 birds and 65 entire African mammal groups, with from 15 to 25 animals in a group.

Mr. Snow and family will spend several days in New York and then return to Oakland, where a reception awaits them. Later he will return to New York to produce moving pictures he took of the entire trip.

Denied Love, So She Says, This Pretty Wife Is Seeking Divorce; 'Business Trips' Blamed

DETROIT—"He denied me love and when I told him life without love was driving me to thoughts of suicide he thrust a revolver in my hand and told me to 'go to it,'" declared Mrs. Rose Fecteau in explanation of her divorce suit against her husband, George M. Fecteau, proprietor of a chain of men's wear stores here.

The suit is a suppressed case, and although the divorce has been pending several months the fact became known only when Mrs. Fecteau's attorneys unsuccessfully sought an inventory of her husband's property and had the case put over on the court calendar for January 10.

"I loved him, loved his two children as I would my own, but he left me to go on 'business trips' to Chicago and St. Louis," she says.

Unable, she says, to bear living with Fecteau longer Mrs. Fecteau left him last September, since which time he has been contributing $32.50 a week toward her support.

Mrs. Fecteau, as Rose Morrison, was a nurse in her home town, Hudson Falls, N. Y., when she met Fecteau. A brief and whirlwind courtship followed. Then they married and after a honeymoon in New York and Atlantic City they came to Detroit, where she was introduced to his two motherless daughters, Jane and Evelyn.

In the motion of the wife for an inventory of her husband's property Mrs. Fecteau's counsel said Fecteau was worth about $1,000,000. This Fecteau's counsel denies, asserting $100,000 was nearer correct. Fecteau has filed a cross bill against his wife.

BERLIN IS ANXIOUS TO WELCOME NEW U. S. MINISTER

James W. Gerard Says That Germany Wants to Get Pre-War Relations

Written for International News Service
NEW YORK—Germany is eagerly awaiting the new American Ambassador to Berlin, who will be given a cordial welcome and greeted as the official representative of a friendly country, according to James W. Gerard, who was withdrawn from Berlin as Ambassador there when the United States entered the war.

Gerard said one of the major problems facing the new Ambassador at Berlin will be settlement of the American claims for damages in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania. He saw no difficulty for the new Minister in this matter, however.

Ellis Loring Dresel, a Boston lawyer, is now in charge of American affairs at Berlin, with the title of Charge d'Affaires.

"Germany," said Mr. Gerard, in an interview, "wants our friendship. This country stands next only to Great Britain in German regard today. All the German 'hate' of the war period is now deflected against France, and Great Britain and this country are looked upon as friends."

Needs Independent Income
"Germany," he said, "is eager to go more than half way with America."

Mr. Gerard refused to comment on Premier Brandt's statement before the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments that Germany continued a military menace, and also on the proposed Harding "association" as it would affect Germany.

An independent income Mr. Gerard considers a necessity in an Ambassador in order that he may select a more fitting Embassy than his small diplomatic salary will allow. Usually, he said, an Ambassador from the United States to a foreign land alternates in his character of residence between a place above a candy store or a palace. This is somewhat disturbing to the people of that country. They cannot understand, for instance, how the representative of a rich and powerful nation can live in a second-class hotel.

"The American Ambassador to Berlin," he said, "will need a knowledge of German now even more than formerly. The members of the old imperial government spoke either French or English in diplomatic intercourse. Today the republican government uses its native tongue almost exclusively."

"Yet even when I was at Berlin," he continued, "it was ridiculous for the Ambassador not to know German. So I learned it. A feat," he added,

"which was no trifle after a man was 45. One of the principal objects of an Ambassador is to represent to the home government the sentiment and point of view of the people among whom he is sent. That point of view he can get from the preacher in the pulpit, the vaudeville actor on the stage, from conversation with everybody, and from his reading of the newspapers. Mr. Mosse, of the Tageblatt, once said to me that the point of view was best gathered from reading between the lines. And—you cannot read between the lines in a translation."

DENIES HEIRS DISPUTE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 30.—Dissension among the children of the late Mrs. James J. Hill, who died a month ago, leaving an estate estimated at $18,000,000, was denied by E. C. Lindley, son-in-law of the former empire builder, notwithstanding two rival petitions for letters of administration have been filed.

Mrs. Samuel Hill of Seattle is the only one of the heirs who has not expressed an attitude in the apparent controversy, which came to a head when Louis W. Hill filed a petition, asking the court to name him administrator. The other seven sons and daughters had signed a petition asking that the Northwestern Trust Company be made administrator.

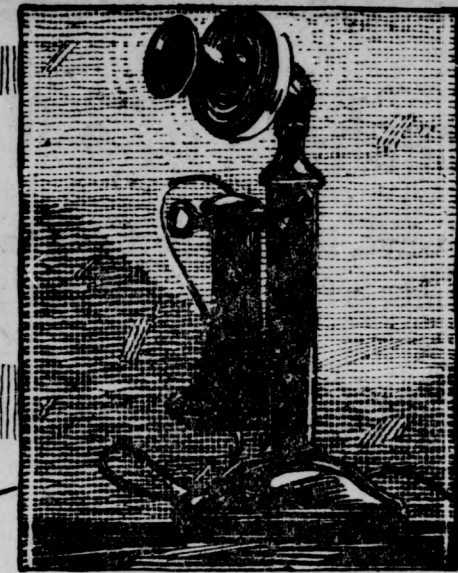

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

The Telephone Instrument

The telephone is a highly sensitive, delicately adjusted instrument. Think of it—without regard to distance, instantaneously reproducing every tone of the human voice.

The quality of its service, in great measure, depends upon careful use.

As with your watch, automobile or piano—the more care, better results.

Among the "out of order" reports received by the company, many result from the carelessness of the subscriber. A telephone may fall from desk or stand, breaking the mouthpiece or throwing the apparatus out of adjustment. The cord may become twisted; meaning a "noisy" line. A damp cloth laid on the cord or the moisture from an open window may cause the "short circuit" and an entire interruption of service.

All of these things are avoidable with the exercise of slight care. In protecting the telephone equipment you are protecting your own service.

Harding and Hughes Hold Conference on Failure of Parley

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—Prospects of another limitation of armament conference being called to consolidate the accomplishments of the present conference and possibly to renew attempts at submarine limitation, began to fade rapidly today following a visit to the White House by Secretary of State Hughes.

The president and Secretary Hughes held a long conversation over the armament conference developments and the failure of the meeting to limit the submarine and auxiliary craft ratios of the big naval powers.

Following the visit of Secretary Hughes to the White House, it was learned that the administration holds the view that little could be accomplished by having a second conference immediately following the present one.

The only excuse for such a conference, it was said, would be the adoption by the powers here of the program of rules which Elihu Root has proposed for the future governing of submarines in warfare. If the powers agree to the restrictions on submarine uses, as proposed by the American delegation, then, it was stated, the other powers of the world maintaining submarine fleets would be asked to subscribe to them. But, even this, it was pointed out, would hardly warrant the summoning of another conference, as the matter could be handled through exchanges of notes.

Ten Injured in Riot Over Packers' Strike

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 30.—Ten men were injured, one probably fatally and another seriously as a result of rioting at Packtown here, where the packing house strike is in progress.

Jesse Field, negro, was struck in the head with a rock said to have been hurled by a striker, and sustained a fractured skull.

Over $5,000 worth of damage was done to automobiles, etc., carrying strikebreakers into the plant, it was estimated.

A whole lot of people are under the impression that the district got a whole new plant for the $85,000 yesterday. Well, hardly that. But it did get a nice crop of oranges if the Lukens' site deal is consummated as per wish of the voters.

These oranges can be used by the cooking classes to good advantage. Maybe, some might be sold. If there are any lemons on the property, and it is probable there are, the students might be used in picking the crop and save production costs as the Lukens' sold them last year for five and ten cents a dozen.

No wonder they wanted to change the crop!

Seriously speaking, the Glendale Union High school officials should be happy of this opportunity to "retrieve" in many matters of judgment of bygone years.

First, a high school plant should be built to care for an ever-increasing populace.

Second, beauty should be secondary to utility.

Third, room arrangement should provide for both large and small classes.

Nothing is so stifling to civic pride as to have makeshift bungalows jammed into the edges of a school campus. Really they resemble the contagious disease wards of a great hospital.

The beauty of brick becomes more evident every day as compared with the dirty white walls which look well in a picture—and that's all. While there is little wrong with the individual architecture of the buildings in the present group, look at them all and you will see other mistakes to overcome.

Room arrangement in any school should meet the needs of the pupils rather than the needs of four walls. Many classes are small and to have them lost in a large room while another equally large room is filled to overflowing seems inconsistent.

Zoning a growing city like Glendale gives the council quite some concern. And well it may, for there are no two people going to be satisfied with any decision regarding their right to build what they "damn please" on the property which they have purchased.

In the first place, the establishing of tentative zone lines, which indicated that the frontage along San Fernando Road in the western part of the city would be industrial, has caused property to double and treble in value there and there is doubt that a manufacturer will consider it worth the money. Therefore, the stultifying effect of a zoning ordinance already has been noticed.

Likewise, with apartments or bungalow courts, there is bound to be a price put on the vacant property in districts where these substantial investments may be made. No need of picturing the result.

There seems to be but one real solution for this dilemma in which the city council finds itself. That is to "back the buck" to those seeking a zoning ordinance and permit them to work out something in the way of an ordinance that will please everyone. And if that cannot be accomplished, why not have a dozen or more elastic zones, or interlocking zones, or something along that line which will give each neighborhood jurisdiction over undesirable building?

Bungalow courts are another problem. Mechanics have the habit of starting a public garage in their own "back lot." That makes the neighbors sore. The council doesn't like to take the means of a livelihood away from a man, but—

What would you do?

Waves 'Big Stick' Over Movie Concerns, Senators Are Told

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Charges that the Eastman Kodak company was "wielding a club" over the heads of American motion picture producers to compel them to buy the Eastman raw film and to withdraw their opposition to a tariff against foreign films, were made before the senate finance committee by Saul E. Rogers, representing the National Association of Motion Picture producers.

Rogers warned the committee that the American industry would be in danger of extinction because of retaliatory duties imposed by other countries if a high rate were imposed by the United States.

"I speak for every large producer except David Griffith," he said. "Griffith puts out only two or three pictures a year and fears the big 'mass' production from abroad. Yet, when Griffith put on 'Heart of the World' he found it necessary to go abroad," continued Rogers. Rogers opposed the 30 per cent ad valorem rate fixed in the house bill and asked that the present rate of 2 cents on exposed, 3 cents on developed and 1 cent on positive film be retained.

Thomas W. Stephens, representing the Ansco company, also "took a shot" at the Eastman company. He asked that photo paper be placed on the free list.

"The only effect of a duty would be to protect the Eastman monopoly," he declared.

Two Coastwise Ships Proposed, Is Report

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—It is reported in shipping circles here that the Bethlehem shipbuilding corporation has prepared plans for the construction of two new coastwise passenger vessels for the San Francisco and Portland steamship company. The new vessels, it is understood, will have the most modern accommodations for about 415 passengers each and will have a speed of 17 knots.

A stabilizer to equalize the roll of the sea is one of the modern inventions to be installed, it is stated. Another innovation planned for the vessels is a radio telephone arrangement which will enable passengers to be in touch with port at all times. It is understood here that final negotiations for the construction of the vessels are now pending.

DIFFERENCE IN VIEWPOINT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—President Harding does not believe that the term "insular possessions and insular dominions," as contained in the new four-powered Pacific treaty applies to the islands of Japan proper, which constitute the Japanese Empire, it was learned officially at the White House.

This viewpoint of the president is known to be at direct variance with that held by the state department, a high official having stated last week that the islands of Japan proper were included in the term "insular dominions and insular possessions."

The New Year will write the name of H. G. McBain Grocery
instead of Shaver's Grocery

on the business directory of this city. This, in fact, is a change in name only, as Mr. H. G. McBain has been the active head of the Shaver Grocery for many years.

BEARS WILL WIN, SO WISE MEN SAY, BUT SCORE NOT YET SET

From 1 to 10 Touchdowns Predicted as Berkeley's Margin of Victory; But You Never Can Tell

By HOWARD M'GILLIS, Sporting Editor The Evening News

With the annual East vs. West football classic but three days away the amount of public interest in the battle, which has been quite a minus quantity on the Pacific coast, has finally come into its own. In stores, offices, clubs, on the cars, on the street—in fact, in practically every gathering place in Southern California—the topic of discussion is invariably turned toward some phase of the coming California-Washington and Jefferson struggle. This year's contest is providing even more argument for the fervid members of the Hot Stove league than did the many pre-game debates of last year's famous Ohio State-California massacre.

And the funniest part of the whole affair is—nobody seems to agree regarding the final result of Monday's game. Although the general consensus is that the Golden Bears will undoubtedly come out on top most of the experts fail to agree as to the relative score. All the way from one to ten touchdowns have been predicted as California's margin of victory. Very few will concede W. and J. a chance of scoring, although there is a scattered minority among the more rabid backers of the Pennsylvania school who figure that Coach "Greasy" Neale has developed his scoring machine to such a high pitch that it will trample through the Bears' defense for enough scores to win the game.

But we'll all know on Monday night, so why worry?

The announcement made by a Los Angeles newspaper stating that Walter Camp, dean of them all among college football circles will be unable to accept an invitation to attend the Bruin-President combat comes as a real disappointment to coast football fans. Should the noted authority see California playing in anything like its regular form it's a cinch that the West would receive more attention on the gridiron map than at any time in the past.

Although Camp is the object of hundreds of criticisms regarding the selection of his annual All-American squads, still they all invariably regard his choice as superior of them all and every pigskin star in the country would rather see his name on Camp's mythical eleven than on all of the other "All" teams.

Mr. Camp's reason for rejecting the offer to come West for the New Year's struggle was that it conflicted with his appointments at several important intercollegiate meetings early in January.

Much conjecture is in the wind regarding the style of play that Andy Smith will select for his Preying Bears in the big game, although it is generally considered that forward passing will be the main dish, as was the case against Ohio State a year ago. With Crip Tooney heaving the short ones and the redoubtable Brick Muller on the throwing end of the long distance ground gainers the Presidents would have some task in stopping California's invincible aerial attack, especially when such performers as Brodie Stephens, Charlie Erb, Don Nichols and Muller are eligible to receive the ball.

The next outdoor event of annual importance to be held in California will be the cross city race of The San Francisco Bulletin which will be held on New Year's day. This race has been run now for nearly a dozen years and has become a fixture. It attracts the best of the long distance runners from all sections of California. The course runs from the Ferry Building at the foot of Market street, out to the Cliff House at the beach, a distance of seven and a fraction miles.

Extreme remedies are appropriate for extreme diseases.—Hippocrates.

A New Year's Resolution

Each year this institution adds to the equipment and service whereby a more perfect Mortuary Service is offered to the people of Glendale and vicinity.

The year 1921 was a notable one in this establishment, in that we added thousands of dollars' worth of automotive equipment, as well as many other additional improvements.

And NOW—at the start of a new year—we pledge ourselves to constant and untiring endeavor to make our standards of perfection even higher than in the past, and continue to give the citizens of Glendale and adjacent territory a Mortuary Service that can not be surpassed in cities of many times Glendale's population—and that will be noteworthy for the highest character of taste and tact, and practical expression of sympathy.

As always, every effort will be made to maintain our reputation for moderate charges.

Visitors and newcomers to Glendale not familiar with a Funeral Home conducted along methods of the highest type are cordially invited to inspect this institution.

ORPHEUM STAR FOR REAL FESTIVAL OF HEADLINER UPON FUN OFFERED ON T. D. & L. BILL GLENDALE BILL

Louis London Gives Act That Is Certain to Please, Is Management's Claim

As a headliner for the special vaudeville road show which opens at the T. D. & L. theater today, Meiklejohn & Dunn have secured Louis London, the Orpheum star. Mr. London is famous from coast to coast for his golden voice and the act which he is presenting this year contains a wealth of pleasing numbers.

There are many so-called jugglers on the stage today, in fact, there are too many of them. Combining his ability to throw things about in a reckless manner and most important, his ability to catch them, with a sense of humor that is uncontrollable, Billy Lyle has made for himself a name as vaudeville's most entertaining light. Mile. Valeska Foss, premier danseuse, is presenting a colorful collection of unusual dances. In this act Miss Valeska performs the same dances which she did during her engagement at the midnight revue at the New York Roof Garden.

Another act, especially selected because of its unusual merit, will complete the vaudeville portion of the bill and on the screen "Playthings of Destiny," in which beautiful Anita Stewart is starred.

'A Night at Home' is Said to
Be Big Hit; Program Presented Tonight

Another big Bert Levey vaudeville bill is playing at the Glendale Theatre tonight with every act professional and up to standard big time. The Losters present their fun festival entitled "A Night at Home." Frank Decker does juggling in a masterful manner. Haley and Trebor have an act called "Work."

Bud Boyd adds more humor to the program in his capacity as the "Official Sampler of the Home Brewers' Association." The Silverton trio sing their way into the hearts of their audiences. Five better acts would be hard to find on any bill.

"The Primal Law," the Fox play in which Dustin Farnum and his excellent support have been delighting audiences at the Glendale Theatre, will be shown for the last time tonight. The picture has scored a notable success, which is fully justified by the happy combination of an interesting and exciting story, a justly popular star, a strong cast and skillful direction. All who fail to grasp this final opportunity will miss an entertainment of unusual appeal. A complete change of program is announced for Saturday.
